PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE
To the Students of William Carey College
1955-56

Clear conception and bold execution are two requirements of great achievement; when matched with endurance and an imagination on fire with creative impulse, there is no known limit to what might be accomplished.

If I sought to inspire your highest accomplishment, I could well say, in your pursuit of an education, get a knowledge of the basic facts of life. Get the facts concerning the realm of materialism and of personality--human and divine.

Confucius said, "The wise men of antiquity, when they wished to make the whole world peaceful and happy, first put their own States into proper order. Before putting their States into proper order, they regulated their own families. Before regulating their families, they regulated themselves. Before regulating themselves, they tried to be sincere in their thoughts. Before being sincere in their thoughts, they tried to see things exactly as they really were."

See the facts as they really are. See facts as they ought to be; then dare to create in your time that world all men wish for, and some at a distance see! If you will so regulate your life the result in your time, to you, will doubtless be crucifixion but in God's time greatness will ensue. By God's grace to be great, to God, is nowhere to be small to any.

I. E. Rouse

Remember

"We have raised a standard to which the good and wise can repair; the event is in the hands of God."--George Washington.

"Were we directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap we should soon want bread. I am for a government rigorously frugal and simple . . . and not a multiplication of offices and salaries merely to make partisans and for increasing by every device the public debt on the principle of its being a public blessing."--Thomas Jefferson.

"The American republic will endure as long as the ideas of the men who founded it continue dominant."--James Russell Lowell.

"Where everything is done through the bureaucracy, nothing to which the bureaucracy is really adverse can be done at all."--John Stuart Mill.

"The lesson should be constantly enforced that though the people support the Government, the Government should not support the people."--Grover Cleveland.

"God grants liberty only to those who live it and are always ready to defend it."--Daniel Webster.

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."--John Philpot Curran.

"We must beware of trying to build a society in which nobody counts for anything except a politician or an official, a society where enterprise gains no reward and thrift no privileges."--Winston Churchill.

"Would you live at ease? Do what you ought, not what you please."--Benjamin Franklin.

"Education is teaching a fellow to work or it's no good."--Herbert Spencer.

"Leaders are ordinary persons with extraordinary determination."--Herbert Kaufman.

"He profits most who serves best."--Rotary Club.

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."--Bible.

One of England's greatest statesmen, William Gladstone, in speaking of our Constitution said: "It is the greatest political work that was ever struck off at one time, by the brain and purpose of man."

"Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it."--Bible.
